

Welcome to Human-Machine Team Lab!

The Human-Machine Teaming laboratory was established in September 2003 by Dr. Julie A. Adams, Ph.D.. The purpose of the laboratory is to investigate and advance issues in Complex Man-Machine Systems interaction with a primary focus on human-robotic interaction. Research focuses on developing interaction for multiple robotic systems and developing distributed artificially intelligent algorithms to support human-robotic interaction.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

School of Engineering

Part of Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science in the School of Engineering
at Vanderbilt University

360 Jacobs Hall Vanderbilt University
Nashville, TN 37235-1824

tel: 615 322 - 8481